EDUCATION

- MSc. Personalized Medicine and Health Applied Bioinformatics Madrid, Spain
Spanish National Cancer Research Center and ISCII Sep. 2020 – In Progress
- MSEd. Science Teaching in Secondary Education Barcelona, Spain
Universitat Pompeu Fabra Sep. 2018 – Jun. 2019
- BSc. Biotechnology Girona, Spain
Universitat de Girona Sep. 2014 – Jun. 2018

SKILLS

Omics Analysis	Sequence alignment tools (i.e. Blast, Bowtie), Variant identification and analysis, Software for NGS, Tools for handling high throughput sequencing data (i.e. Samtools), Tools for web-based analysis (Galaxy).
Programming	Python: Data types, Control Structures, Operations and packages, including Pandas, scikit-learn, NumPy, SciPy and Seaborn. R: Data types, Statistical Analysis and packages, including dplyr, BioConductor, shiny, knitr, ggplot2. Databases and others: MySQL, MongoDB, Git, Command Line Tools, Linux.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

- Ghent University Ghent, Belgium
Undergraduate member in the Genetics Labs Jan 2018 – Jun 2018
Collaborated in an ongoing research project to complete my Final Bachelor's Project, my role was: to test and optimize primers for embryo transcript expression analysis and to design, test and optimize primers for bisulfite treated embryos. Key responsibilities were;
 - Followed the full process to analyse transcript expression: from RNA extraction to obtaining results via RT-qPCRs.
 - Tested and optimized the Oxidative Bisulfite sequencing protocol for our embryo samples
 - Analyzed the results using bioinformatic tools such as Bioedit or Nucleotide Blast to improve the design of primers.
